

SCOTT COUNTY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Community Connection

VOLUME 9, ISSUE 4

FALL 2012

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Lynda Phillips, Chairman
 Adam Gibson, Vice Chairman
 Dan Slattery, Treasurer
 Syd Whitlock, Secretary
 Pat Bridge
 Barbara Broady
 Lisa Conder
 Marsha Howser
 Hank Jentzen
 Connie Kenninger
 L.L. Lowry
 Jason Mount
 Matt Oberlies

STAFF

Jaime Toppe
Executive Director
 Charlotte Boswell
Chief Financial Officer
 Hannah Hatton
Intern
 Ali Brown
Intern

INSIDE

THIS ISSUE:

New interns	2
Fall dinner	2
Terry Fewell gift	3
Julian gift	3
$15,000 campaign	4
Contact Us	4

Be the first to read our newsletter! Sign up now for our email distribution list and help us to save the environment and postage costs!

Cloyd and Betty Julian Leave Legacy Through Estate Gift

A gift to the Scott County Community Foundation ("SCCF") from a man with ties to the Austin community will help fund charitable programs and projects each year during the Community Grants Program, announced Executive Director Jaime Toppe.

Cloyd "Curly" Julian was born on November 30, 1910, the oldest of seven sons born to Elsie and Otto Julian of Austin, Ind. He graduated from Austin High School and DePauw University, and later received his master's degree from the University of Iowa. He served in the Navy during World War II, attaining the rank of lieutenant commander. Curly married Elizabeth "Betty" Brooks, to whom he was married for 62 years. Curly taught at Austin High School for two years before moving to Indianapolis. He coached for the Austin Eagles from 1935-1936, leaving with a 26-13 record. He refereed high school football and basketball around the state, and is a member of the Indiana Football Hall of Fame.

Curly, along with two others, wrote one of the leading health books, "Modern Health." After retirement, he continued to be active in the Indianapolis community. He died April 10, 2012, at the age of 101, and is survived by several family members, including two brothers, Wilbur and Gordon, of Scott County.

The Scott County Community Foundation received notice of a gift from the Cloyd and Elizabeth Julian Charitable Remainder Unitrust (CRUT), and will use the unrestricted gift for the Scott County Memorial Fund. A CRUT is a special, irrevocable trust that allows a donor to take a fixed percentage of their assets, and upon a specific time, the remaining balance of the assets are distributed to charity.

"When donors give an unrestricted gift, they leave the decision of the best use of the gift to the Board of Directors," explained Toppe. "Needs in a community change over time, and our donors are entrusting the Board to use their expertise to make those decisions."

Each year, earnings from the Scott County Memorial Fund will be used with other unrestricted funds to

Continued on Page 3

Thoughts From Our Chairman

Dear Friends of the Foundation,

Fifteen years. Can you believe it? The Scott County Community Foundation is celebrating its 15th anniversary this year. So many good things have happened over the past 15 years since a visionary group of people got together to establish the Foundation. Margaret Mead once said, "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has." We are grateful to those first organizers who had the vision and determination to try something new: Mary Ellen Buchanan, Susan Carter, Bob Cathcart, Dwight Chamberlain, Don Collins Sr., Buzzy Dobbins, Donna Faris, Eric Graham, Mike Guthrie, Melinda

Lowry, Phil Martin, John Morgan, Steve Rumble, Carol St. Clair, Kerry Thompson, Ivan Wells, and Becky Wolf.

Since its inception in 1997, $2.7 million have been granted to the community. Wow. Think about that. 2.7 MILLION dollars have gone through the Scott County Community Foundation to make the quality of life in our Scott County better.

I wonder what we can do in the next 15 years? $4 million? $6 million? $10 million granted to the community? A lot of good things could happen with $10 million.

You have a chance to get us started. During the first two weeks of November, the Foundation has set a goal of raising $30,000 in gifts in just 15 days. This is a pretty big challenge.

To make the money go even further, the Foundation will provide matching money to make your donation have an even bigger impact. On the last page of this newsletter, there is more information about the "15 years. $15,000. 15 days" campaign. Please consider being a part of this special endowment-building campaign. Together we can continue the good works those first organizers began 15 years ago.

LYNDA PHILLIPS
CHAIRMAN

New Interns Provide Support to Foundation, Community

A grant from Lilly Endowment has provided the opportunity for the Scott County Community Foundation to hire two new interns, Hannah Hatton and Alexandra Brown.

Hannah is currently a senior at Indiana University Southeast where she is majoring in psychology. She is providing administrative support to the Foundation by assisting with the youth website, community e-newsletter, coordinating Career Clusters program at Scottsburg High School, 15-year anniversary special projects and other office support.

Hannah will graduate in May of 2013. She is active in Psychology Club and Psi Chi, the honorary club for psychology students. She is also involved with Christian Student Fellowship, where she serves as vice-president, and the Honors Program, where she is co-chair of the Student Advisory Board. After graduation, Hannah plans to attend a master's program for school counseling and become a high school guidance counselor.

Hannah is a 2009 graduate of Jennings County High School and is the daughter of Glenda Farrell-Mangum, Jesse Mangum, and the late Donald Farrell.

Hannah has been married for two years to Blake Hatton, who also graduated from Jennings County in 2009. They just recently moved to Scottsburg and are enjoying living there with their dog, Peanut.

"I am really looking forward to working as an intern for the Community Foundation and learning more about how it helps out Scott County," said Hannah. "Being a Lilly recipient in Jennings County, it makes me feel like I can give back just a small part of what the Lilly Endowment Scholarship gave to me by interning for the Community Foundation."

Hannah (left) and Ali (right)

Alexandra ("Ali") is working as the Educational Programs Coordinator, where her duties involve assisting the schools, community boards and committees with educational programs. She will help with career field trips, Reality Store, teaching life skills, 21st Century Scholar registrations and more for the 2012-2013 school year.

Ali is a senior at Indiana University Southeast. She is majoring in sociology, minoring in Spanish and will graduate in May 2013. She is a member of the Sociology Club. She has presented her research at the Indiana University Southeast Student Conference and is currently working on publishing her material in the Indiana University Undergraduate Research Journal. She also works part-time at Indiana University Southeast's Applied Research and Education Center as a research assistant. After graduation, Ali hopes to start her career and eventually earn a master's degree.

Ali graduated from Silver Creek High School in 2009 with an Academic Honors Diploma. She is a resident of Sellersburg, where she was born and raised.

"I am very excited about working with the Scott County Community Foundation and Scottsburg Middle School," said Ali. "I am grateful to have the opportunity to learn and apply new skills. I look forward to learning new things, meeting new people, and giving back to the community."

The Community Foundation Internships (CFI) program is part of Lilly's goals to help build healthy Indiana community foundations and to provide college students with real-life work experiences.

"The CFI program has been a huge blessing to our community," said Executive Director Jaime Toppe. "This is a tremendous opportunity not only for community foundations and our interns, but for the community as well. We are able to provide some insight on the nonprofit sector to Hannah and Ali, and hopefully they can use these skills and knowledge in their careers, as well as continue their desire to serve their communities after graduation."

Focus on 15 Years to be Highlight of Fall Dinner

Highlighting the accomplishments of the last 15 years of our existence will be the focus of this year's annual "Thanks4Giving" fall dinner.

The event will feature guest speakers who have been touched by the Foundation in some way, whether it is as a donor, a grant recipient, or someone who has been impacted through an organization that has received funding.

The special event will be held Thursday, Nov. 15 from 6-8 p.m. at Jeeves & Co. Tickets are $25 each, and seating is limited so reservations are required.

The annual dinner is our way to say "thanks" to our donors, volunteers and nonprofit organizations who are all striving to enrich the lives of everyone in our community.

As in years past, a $250 award will be given to a nonprofit, and table sponsors are eligible for a drawing to contribute $250 to the fund of their choice. The results of our special "15 Years. $15,000. 15 days." campaign will be shared that evening as well.

We hope to see you there for this special evening, and thank you for your support over the last 15 years!

Terry Fewell's Contributions to Community Live On

Terry Fewell, a well-known local businessman and supporter of our community, will have his contributions live on for generations with his gift to the Scott County Community Foundation.

Terry, who died May 12 after his battle with cancer, had the foresight to include the Scott County Community Foundation in his trust. Two funds will be established with his gift, the Terry Fewell Memorial Unrestricted Fund, and the Terry Fewell Memorial Youth Fund. Each will support charitable projects during the Foundation's Community Grants Program and the Scott County Youth Grantmaking Council's grants cycle.

Terry graduated from Scottsburg High School, and attended Purdue University and Indiana University, later telling his wife Marsha that he had no intentions of ever being part of a monument business. But his skills were needed at home, and he returned to help with the family business, Fewell Monument. He took over the management after his father's unexpected death in 1964.

Terry later completed his college degree in business after he pledged to himself to finish, no matter how long it took and how hard it was.

Terry was interested in having a business pleasing in sight and bringing interested customers to the downtown Scottsburg area, shared Marsha. He personally redesigned the Fewell Monument building and had the grounds landscaped to enhance the property.

Today, Fewell Monument provides jobs for many Scott County residents and is a prominent business leading the way to the town square. Marsha said that the employees of Fewell Monument were a vital part of Terry's life, with Terry calling them the gears that ran the company.

This dedication to his work helped make Fewell Monument well-known not only in Scott County, but also throughout the nation. Some of Terry's notable granite work includes former Indiana Governor Orr's monument in Indianapolis, Seymour's war memorial, West Virginia Miner's memorial, the granite sculpture in front of the University of Louisville's Engineering building, Boy Scout emblem in the lobby of the National Headquarters, and celebrities Anna Nicole Smith and Waylon Jennings' monuments.

Locally, Terry contributed several monuments at cost to the community, including the war memorial on the Scott County courthouse square, the firefighters' memorial on the courthouse square, the historical marker at Lake Iola and the monument at the Pigeon Roost historical site. He also contributed monuments that were being replaced by the Scott County Historical Society in small, older cemeteries, as well as helped restore, at no cost, cemeteries harmed by storms.

Terry had served on the Scottsburg Volunteer Fire Department, and had been active in the old Scottsburg Jaycees. He was also active as a member at Scottsburg United Methodist Church until his cancer caused him to cut back on responsibilities.

For all these achievements, it was only fitting that he was nominated and won the 2011 Mayor's Good Neighbor Award. He was also nominated, before his death, for the Scottsburg High School Alumnus of the Year award, and was chosen as one of two recipients after he passed away.

"He used a hard work ethic along with a competitive spirit to make things better for family, friends, and community," said Marsha.

Throughout Terry's career, he also supported the Scott County Community Foundation's Youth Grantmaking Council, of which his grandson, Hunter Steinkamp, is a member. This is how he became more familiar with the Foundation, said Marsha.

Terry named the Foundation in his trust with an unrestricted gift. Because of Terry's decision to include the Community Foundation in his planned giving, he has been named a member of the Legacy Society. This special honor is given to those who had the vision to use the Community Foundation help them carry out their charitable goals.

 Note: the full story and additional photos can be viewed on our website.

"This is a wonderful way for Terry's legacy to live on. Each year when grants are awarded to the community, they will be done in Terry's memory, continuing his spirit of giving."

Jaime Toppe,
Executive Director

Cloyd and Betty Julian Leave Legacy Through Estate Gift (continued from page 1)

grant awards to the community. Since SCCF's inception 15 years ago, over $2.7 million has been granted to the community through the generosity of its donors.

Because Curly and Betty had the foresight to use the Community Foundation as a vehicle for their charitable giving, they will be named as members of the Legacy Society.

They join others who have named the Community Foundation in their planned giving instrument, such as a will or trust.

"Cloyd always remembered where he came from," said his brother, Gordon Julian. He believes that's why Cloyd chose the Community Foundation for his charitable giving.

"We are so honored to receive this gift, which will impact Scott County for generations to come," said Toppe. "We encourage others who want to make a lasting commitment to our community to allow the Community Foundation to help you carry out your charitable goals."

Scott County Community Foundation

PO Box 25

60 North Main Street
Scottsburg, IN 47170

Phone: 812-752-2057

Fax: 812-752-9257

E-mail: info@scottcountyfoundation.org

Website: www.scottcountyfoundation.org

www.facebook.com/ScottCountyCommunityFoundation

Non Profit
U. S. POSTAGE
PAID
SCOTTSBURG, IN
PERMIT NO. 12

Looking Forward, Giving Back.

15 Years. $15,000. 15 Days.

In celebration of its 15-year anniversary, the Scott County Community Foundation has announced a matching endowment-building campaign. The special campaign, "15 Years. $15,000. 15 Days." will be held November 1-15.

During those 15 days, the Scott County Community Foundation will match any donations to a current endowment fund, with 50 cents for every dollar contributed. This means a donor's $100 gift would be matched with $50, resulting in $150 for the fund, for example. The maximum gift per donor is $5,000, and matching money is awarded on a first-come, first-served basis. Donors must designate which endowment fund they wish to contribute to in order to receive the matching dollars. The Foundation will provide matching funds of $15,000 for this campaign.

With endowment funds, the original gift is not spent, and only a portion of the earnings are granted back to the community based on the donor's intentions. This allows the fund to support a cause for generations.

The Scott County Community Foundation currently has 70 funds to support education, healthy citizens, youth development, beautification, historic preservation and more.

The results of the campaign will be announced at the an-

Lexington Good Faith Preschool is just one of over 60 organizations that are displaying burgundy ribbons during October in celebration of our 15-year anniversary. The ribbon campaign leads up to the "15 Years. $15,000. 15 Days." campaign. Photos of the grant recipients can be viewed on our Facebook page.

annual "Thanks4Giving" fall dinner held Nov. 15 at Jeeves & Co., which is also National Philanthropy Day.

You may mail your tax-deductible gift to the Scott County Community Foundation, P.O. Box 25; Scottsburg, IN 47170, or bring to the office at 60 N. Main St., Scottsburg. Only gifts postmarked between Nov. 1-15 will be eligible, and only with funds available for matching.